

Pull on your boots and ...

Wade into the Bronx River

A series of lectures, workshops and walks to share information & promote the river as an outdoor classroom. All are free & open to the public!

- Migration Reform: Opening up the Bronx River to Migratory Fish
March 20 at 6:00 pm | Location: Arsenal Gallery in Central Park, 830 Fifth Avenue at 64th St
An evening of discourse, discussion & dance with Scientist and author John Waldman, researcher George Jackman and choreographer Paloma McGregor as we celebrate the construction of NYC's first fish ladder. Part of NYC Parks' Uncommon Ground series—reservations requested. uncommonground@parks.nyc.gov
- Walk like a Naturalist: Learning to Share Your Love of the Environment
June 5 (World Environment Day) | Location: the Bronx River Forest
Join local naturalists on a walk through the Bronx River Forest to learn about the area's flora and fauna, as well as activities and strategies for sharing your interests and knowledge.
- Watersheds and Sewershed—What's the Difference?
Early September: Participate in activities to learn and teach others about watersheds and sewersheds using resources including topographical maps and the Sewer in a Suitcase.
- State of the Bronx River: Just how healthy is the Bronx River?
Late October: Be the first to hear about the State of the Bronx River in a discussion of the 2013 Bronx River water quality analysis, summarizing over a decade of Bronx River data and presenting new digital resources.

Wade into the Bronx River 2013
Lectures, workshops and walks to learn more about the Bronx River
www.bronxriver.org | 718 430-4665

