The Ecological Restoration and Management Program protects, restores and manages the Bronx River through field work and policy leadership. Guided by an Ecology Team, composed of scientists, community and agency representatives, the Ecology Program tackles the most pressing ecological issues that affect the river corridor. The Bronx River Conservation Crew has a full-time presence on the river, implementing and maintaining our river and upland restoration projects. The Crew is locally-recruited, with an emphasis on creating job opportunities for Bronx residents, who in turn expose hundreds of youth each year to green career paths in their own neighborhoods.
Since the earliest days of the Alliance's work, we have removed 720+ tons of garbage and debris from the river, including 20,000+ tires and 89 cars. See complete program service accomplishment description on Schedule O.

The Education Program provides hands-on, outdoor learning opportunities for thousands of students and educators in one of the most urban and under-resourced neighborhoods in the country, leveraging the Bronx River as an outdoor classroom. The Alliance brings science alive through hands-on learning and exploration of the river; deepens environmental awareness and an understanding of the impact of our own actions; creates healthier, more livable communities; and serve as a conduit for young people who want to be at the forefront of this change, including opening up environmental career opportunities. Since 2001, the Alliance has enabled 3,930 educators & 21,500 students to use the river as an outdoor classroom. See complete program service

The Greenway Program develops open spaces, restores existing parks and integrates them into a series of continuous parks and trails along the river-the Bronx River Greenway. When complete, the greenway will form a 23-mile ribbon of parkland along the river, opening up a healthy corridor for walking, biking and running in communities that have long lacked access to open space and the waterfront. The Greenway Team brings together community advocates, non-profit leaders, and government agencies to interact, coordinate and move projects forward, as well as raise capital funds. To date, over $250 million has been committed to greenway projects. See Today, the river, once a neglected, shunned eyesore, is now a source of community pride. The river is getting cleaner and more beautiful each year, the Alliance is growing stronger and deeper as an organization, and above all, communities along the river are making the river more and more their own.

The Ecological Restoration and Management Program protects, restores and manages the Bronx River through field work and policy leadership. Guided by an Ecology Team, composed of scientists, community and agency representatives, the Ecology Program tackles the most pressing ecological issues that affect the river corridor. The Bronx River Conservation Crew has a full-time presence on the river, implementing and maintaining our river and upland restoration projects. The Crew is locally-recruited, with an emphasis on creating job opportunities for Bronx residents, who in turn expose hundreds of youth each year to green career paths in their own neighborhoods.

The Alliance also engages community members in critical policy issues affecting the river and champion and steward green infrastructure--rain gardens, rain barrels, green roofs--throughout the entire watershed. In addition, we run water quality monitoring programs that engage citizen scientists to track the health of the river and track down sources of pollution.

In 2021, COVID persisted and continued to have a significant impact on communities along the river. Our work for the river and the communities through which it flows, therefore, did not stop. Our Bronx River communities were some of the most affected by COVID in the nation; their need for the river and the Bronx River Greenway escalated, as our parks and open spaces were one of the few places people who could not flee the city could go for recreation, safe gathering with family and friends, and health and healing.

Our field staff reported for duty without pause during the second year of the pandemic to serve the river and our parks, which were facing continuing high usership. Some staff worked remotely to minimize crowding in the office and unnecessary travel. We continued virtual programming and deepened our summer youth programming by engaging young people in park and natural area stewardship, recreational programs, and community outreach. Alliance staff also expanded our summer EELS (environmental education and leadership for students) internship by partnering with Lehman College to offer students college credit in environmental science, along with a stipend. Bronx River Alliance also fully occupied River House, a new NYC Parks-owned environmental classroom, boathouse, in 2021.

Since the earliest days of our efforts, the Alliance, working together with the New York City Department of Parks & Recreation and dozens of community partners, has achieved the following program accomplishments:

- Removed 725+ tons of garbage and debris from the river, including 20,000+ tires and 89 cars
- Opened 22 new acres of waterfront parkland in the South Bronx
- Led 26,000+ people on paddling adventures
- Empowered 22,000+ volunteers to donate 120,000+ hours to the river and its parks
- Enabled 3,900+ educators & 21,500 students to use the river as an outdoor classroom
- Planted 136,000+ native trees and plants & removed 4 million cubic yards of choking, invasive vegetation

The transformation has been remarkable, thanks to this unique partnership powered equally by community and government resources. Once an abandoned, trash-filled river, today the Bronx River is a healthy community resource and source of pride.

The Education Program provides hands-on, outdoor learning opportunities for thousands of students and educators in one of the most urban and under-resourced neighborhoods in the country, leveraging the Bronx River as an outdoor classroom. The Alliance brings science alive through hands-on learning and exploration of the river; deepens environmental awareness and an understanding of the impact of our own actions; creates healthier, more livable communities; and serve as a conduit for young people who want to be at the forefront of this change, including opening up environmental career opportunities. Since 2001, the Alliance has enabled 3,750 educators & 20,000 students to use the river as an outdoor classroom.

In 2019 via a participatory visioning process with staff and partners, the Alliance articulated a new mission for its Education Program: The mission of the Bronx River Alliance Education Program is to work with schools and community-based organizations to provide engaging, hands-on opportunities for youth and educators to use the Bronx River watershed as an outdoor classroom and make connections with local and global issues. We serve as a bridge to connect youth from environmental justice communities to advanced study and career opportunities in environmental fields.

In 2020, the Alliance launched a new paid internship program for youth in Environmental Justice communities in the watershed as the first step in achieving this mission. In 2021, we built upon that to forge a new partnership with Lehman College to offer a paid, credit-bearing summer course in environmental science.

The Greenway Program develops open spaces, restores existing parks and integrates them into a series of continuous parks and trails along the river—the Bronx River Greenway. When complete, the greenway will form a 23-mile ribbon of parkland along the river from the Kensico Reservoir to the East River, opening up a healthy corridor for walking, biking and running in communities that desperately need access to open space. The Alliance has transformed a trash-strewn street-end, a concrete plant factory and a former manufactured gas plant into waterfront parks as part of the Bronx River Greenway. The Greenway Team brings together community advocates, non-profit leaders, and government agencies to interact, coordinate and move projects forward, as well as raise capital funds. To date, over $250 million has been committed to greenway projects and we have opened up 22 new acres of waterfront parkland in the South Bronx, with new parks and trails opening every year.
